Virtual Health

If you are unable to leave your home, or have trouble getting transportation for your medical appointments, there are options available to you for a virtual doctor's visit.

Virtual Visits are convenient; however, they do require some setup. For example, you will need a device that has a built-in camera, microphone, and access to the internet. In most cases, your doctor's office will be able to provide you with instructions on how to connect your visit and typically it is a pretty easy process.
